DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear what exactly is meant by a “pedestal-like design” in the context of the claimed invention. Exactly what structure constitutes such a design?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 6-8, 14, 15, and 17-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Great Britain Patent 446,972 (IDS). An adaptor for a braking deceleration device for doors or movable furniture parts, which comprises a plunger A which can be pushed into a housing against a braking force, with an adaptor body K, in the adaptor body; at least one accommodation recess for accommodating the housing of the braking deceleration device is made, and in the adaptor body comprises at least one smooth external surface by which it can be fixed to the frame or furniture carcass by a suitable adhesive, the adaptor body comprises two smooth external surfaces which are essentially aligned at right angles in relation to each other. The adaptor body comprises an essentially triangular cross section.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 5, 11, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over GB Patent 446,972 ('972). Although Patent '972 may not explicitly teach two-sided adhesive as claimed, the examiner serves Official Notice that such adhesive materials, such a two-sided tape, as very well known in the art of joining members. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made for one skilled in the art to have included in the design of '972 such a modification, for the purpose of providing alternative means of fastening two members together.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 4, 9, 10, 13, 16, and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest a braking deceleration device in the entire claimed combination including two accommodation recesses in the adaptor body to receive the housing of a braking deceleration device.
